A serpent had just been used to deceive the first woman, Eve; she in turn had persuaded her husband, Adam, to join her in violating Gods'(YHWH) law by eating from " the tree of the knowledge of good and bad.(Gen.2:17;
3:1-6) And God expelled our first parents

3:1–6,14,15) That prophecy sets the theme for the whole Bible, including Revelation.} The 17th-century English poet John Milton had no such pessimistic thoughts. In his epic poem Paradise Lost, he wrote that God created the earth to be a paradise home for the human family. That original Paradise was lost. However, Milton believed that it would be restored—that a redeemer in the person of Jesus Christ would one day "reward his faithful, and receive them into bliss . . . in Heaven or Earth." Milton confidently declared: "For then the Earth shall all be Paradise."

DIVINE POEM 45

Sir, I commend to you the spirit
Of Lucifer, who was most beautiful
And wore in that proud skull
Rebellion like a jewel exquisite;
I adjure you to meekly admit
That seething genius per-punctual,
Foreword to all the historical:
I beg you to give him his meet.
Brightest of archangels and brightest
Of demons-proud, incomparable Lucifer!
I alone of all men remember
And praise that magnificent zest
That sent God frantic to abuse
And doom this First, pioneering Genius.

everyone have a sinned and we are product of the human imperfection and these are the "Karma"and nobody escape from the world of karma. Since cultivation of wrong desire to the point of fertility precedes the 'birth of sin' (Jas 1:14, 15), the spirit creature who

THE ART of BIENVENIDO BONES BAÑEZ, JR.

By Author of Terrance Lindall

The Seraphim שרפים in a particular plate of the Elephant Folio of my Paradise Lost have paint brushes in one hand and flames in the other. They are painting with fire. Fire, the tools of Satan in hell, is the creative force of the universe. From the first explosion of the big bang there have been worlds created out of magnificent expanding fire. God wrote the Ten Commandments with His finger in fire. I was thinking of Bienvenido Bones Banez when I painted that. Bienvenidos style I call "Fiero Electric" because he recognizes that the divine principle of creation is fire and color, and 'Fiero Electric" because of Bien's color, and 'Fiero Electric" because of Bien's striking juxtaposition of primary colors. Satanic color! One of Bien's many remarkable ideas is that "Satan gives color to the world." Indeed, what a dreary world if everything were nice, sweet, and beautiful. We would soon go insane. Man struggles and finds meaning in the struggles. He writes operas and stories about the struggles of love, treachery and war and paints pictures of it. Do we not find Satan's struggle in Paradise Lost more colorful than anything in Paradise Regained. Yes, Satan excites our imagination...he causes many of our struggles and on so doing gives color to the world! And there is no greater artist than Bien in the history of the world to capture this idea. On display at the WAH Center is a major painting that was only recently shipped to the United States. It is 6 by 8 feet! It came rolled up and had to re-stretched for this exhibit. Having been rolled up it now requires relining by a professional conservator. It is a work of supreme genius that needs to be saved for future generations to wonder at. The major fiery Satanic figure has outstretched arms like Matthias Grunewald's masterpiece of crucified Christ in the Issenheim Altarpiece. In fact there is a small pale figure of Christ with a cross between his legs on this back of Satan and a church on the back of Satan's head. I know that Bien believes the Christian church and that Bien believes the Christian church and all major religions have been coopted by Satan for his purposes. The ribs of Satan become two horns and a mouth opens with fangs that shoot lightening. Around the hole in the fabric of the universe through which Satan is manifested into our world are seen myriad worshipers and idolaters swimming in a blue circle and under Satan's arms of Power and Dominion radiate the human tribulation of Bien's 666 world Surreal Armageddon.

And today its a reality - SURREAL

Banez has exhibited in many shows at the Williamsburg Art & Historical Center, also at the Society for Art of the Imagination, and many other venues. He also performs extempore on piano.

Two renowned artists with the largest Milton folio in the world

Banez receiving commendat on from Yuko Nii of the Yuko Nii Foundation for his masterpiece of Surrealmageddon underscores a manifold vision of globalism, contemporary fascism, ecological devastation, cultural decline, and provocative species of existential and theological skepticism^[6]. Drawing unevenly on Bañez's concept, the collaborative Introduction appearing in the third volume of International Authors' arts anthology, Emanations: Third Eye amply dilates on the idea to remarkable (and humorous) effect.

"Bienvenido Bones agrees with Terrance Lindall, as do I, who declares that the elephant folio with Lindall's illustrations and hand illuminations, decoration mutation of the initial letter in an illuminated manuscript, each in rich gilt and bright colors, are used as the first initial of a section and decorated with designs representing scenes from the text, in order to heighten the intensity of the cumulatively related details in each component part: illustration, border, and historiated initial.

The illustrated borders in the elephant folio are complete paintings in themselves. Although the border art focuses principally on elements of design, they also sometimes tell stories or make commentary about what is illustrated in the featured central painting. The borders likewise pay tribute to both humanity's great achievements, such as music, dance and architecture, as well as tribute to those individuals and institutions and friends who have had important influences on Lindall's ideas, or who have shown substantial support or affinity. For example, the Filipino surrealist artist Bienvenido "Hones" Ranez, Jr., discovered Lindall's repertoire during the world renowned "Have Ix my" exhibit in 2003, an exhibit to which Bienvenido had been invited to display one of his works. His friendship and mutual admiration between the two artists grew, to the benefit of each.

Bienvenido communicated to Lindall the idea of how "Satan" could be "the world." Lindall thought the idea to be an insightful and original "affinity," and so in the elephant folio, "Pandemonium," which is a tribute to art, architecture, construction, sculpture, painting, and the like, he uses it to honor the Filipino surrealist artist by placing Bienvenido's name on the artist's palette at the very top of the border: the palette in flaming colors.

Like the great illustrators of Milton's Paradise Lost before him, Lindall uses many and various techniques and styles to bring Milton's great epic alive. As with Medina, e.g., in the first illustrated edition of Paradise Lost in 1688, Lindall has mastered how to use the synopsisized scenic effect to focus our attention on an important moment in the epic while capturing all around it other significant moments or scenes in the epic related to that important central one.

As with the illustrators James Thornhill and Louis Chéron in the 1720 edition by Jacob Tonson and edited by Thomas Tickell, Terrance Lindall draws upon the use by Thornhill and Chéron of the historiated or illustrated initial along with their use of head- and tail-piece illustrations or vignettes – this latter translated to the marginal illustrations or vignettes in Lindall, all to underscore the main theme of the central illustration of a given Book. As the manner of illustration has changed dramatically in the 19th century from that of the 1688 illustrated edition, so too has the manner

My friend Terrance Lindall -- artist and provocateur -- forwarded a recent review by art and literary critic Phillip Somozo of last

My friend Terrance Lindall — artist and provocateur — forwarded a recent review by art and literary critic Phillip Somozo of last year's literary anthology Emanations. Third Eye, which in part is praise of the artist "Bienvenido Banes Banez, Jr." and in part is praise of writer and literary critic Carter Kaplan, though also in part critique of them both! I will focus on the positive:

Book Review

Emanations. Third Eye anthology by International Authors introduces Surrealmageddon of Davao surrealist

By Phillip Somozo

Surrealmageddon (surreal + Armageddon), a term Banez coined to describe his phantasmagoric vision of the final battle between good and evil, was picked up by books author Carter Kaplan who used it as introductory title for his anthology Emanations: Third Eye, third of a series. This reviewer is motivated by Kaplan's reception of Banez's Surrealmageddon to scrutinize the former's introduction to Emanations: Third Eye.

Carter Kaplan is an American professor who had taught English

Carter Kaplan is an American professor who had taught English and Philosophy for 30 years in many U.S. Colleges and in Scotland. He is a poet and had written a number of novels with philosophical and mythological themes.

Describing Banez as "pioneering philosopher of Surrealmageddon," Kaplan considers the Dabawenyo's vision of apocalyptic psychedelia as "a catalytic spec floating in the global crucible of morphing civilizations." What shapes the future, Kaplan rationalizes, is the global consumerist culture and he admits it doesn't seem very bright. Self-destruction, he elaborates, is built-in in the Homo s. sapiens because of greediness which, in the civilized world, is considered "not insanity." Kaplan's introduction, in effect, also concludes his interpretation of the anthology (subtitled Art of Ecstasy and the Ecstasy of Experiment) in the context of collective human thought deciding its own destiny. It is remarkable Kaplan corroborates Banez's cataclysmic semanticism.

The union of the terms surreal and Armageddon, a brilliant etymological updating by Banez

The union of the terms surreal and Armageddon, a brilliant etymological updating, by Banez, modernized its semantic significance by redefining modernism's pinnacle to which society prophetically (and now affirmed by Kaplan's sound psychosocial arguments) is heading. The term could have been invented by Saint John the Apostle two millennia ago, if only John had knowledge of modern behavioral psychology and social dialectics. Bridging the gap between Prophet John and hermeneutic surrealist Bienvenido "Bones" Banez is artistic evolution.

Yet, I am sure not everyone agrees with Kaplan and Banez, not the inventors of artificial life-support systems (e.g. biotech, genetic engineering, transhumanism) who aim to perpetuate human life regardless if they have to alter nature, and the vested corporates who tweaked the nostril of the planetary Tao so that it has been desperately sniffing for the vanishing direction to its future since Modernism dawned.

There is more, much more, all of it somewhat obscure, though discernible with some effort, but I've received no website address. so I've _____

My friend Terrance Lindall informed me yesterday that today (New York time), Friday, March 7th, 2014, at 5:30–6:30 PM, in the WAH center (directions), there will be a "Book Release" of The Satanic Verses of Bones Banez as Revealed to Terrance Lindall, in Ten Books (think ten 'chapters'), and that both Bienvenido Bones Banez and he will be present to sign copies. Lindall notes that these copies are "Magnificently Illustrated By Bienvenido Bones Banez Jr." and cost $50.

I should remind readers that I edited the text (though the final edit choices were left to Lindall's hand) and penned an introduction, from which I excerpt this passage:

Bones is working within a theological tradition of the fortunate fall, or felix culpa, a view
